FRIENDS UPDATE

Tim Tatton Brown, the Cathedral's Archaeologist, captivated the Friends who attended his talk about the Consecration of the Cathedral, and the part played by the Consecration Crosses, at the annual Friends' Day on 13

September. Tim is an excellent speaker, and the story of the Consecration was both fascinating and informative – he made reference to what was happening in England and Europe at the time leading up to and during the Consecration, the ritual involved, and also several other captivating events – one called the Sicilian Affair, something I know intrigued us – which he referred to as being 'another lecture in itself'!

Our President, the Dean, began the proceedings of the AGM by giving her address, which focused on all that had taken place so far during the Cathedral's 750th Anniversary. Then followed the items on the Agenda, during which the two outgoing members of the Executive Council, Mrs Gemma Russell and Mr David Felgate, stood down. Mrs Kate Weale and Mr Ian Hutton-Penman were proposed and seconded, and were welcomed onto the Council to begin their term of office.

We then enjoyed excellent tea and cake at Sarum College. We were so pleased that such a large number of members showed their support for the Friends by attending the afternoon's events, which culminated in a beautifully sung Festal Evensong. I hope everyone enjoyed themselves and thanks go to all our members for their interest in, and commitment, to the work of the Friends, and to everyone from the Dean and Chapter whose
